INSPIRED BY CHEFS

A small confession from our side: when chefs speak, we listen carefully. Any decorating tool or product that a chef may be lacking or that might make his cooking process just that tiny bit easier, gains our full attention. Inspired by and created for chefs, that's The Color Cuisine™'s heartbeat. In fact, we have introduced an open mindset that encourages chefs not only to speak freely about their needs, but also about their personal inspirations and techniques. ## NO-NONSENSE PRODUCTS

We are trendwatchers, but in a no-nonsense way. We love the constant flow of food fashion and let our ranges respond to new trends. But in addition to being fashionable, we want our products to be convenient. We are an open-to-all cuisine. Our colors and decorations are top-shelf, but even the most modest chef should be able to reach out for them.

Easy to blend, easy to combine, easy to use: it's an unwritten rule for all our products. From the Power Flowers™ range to the COCOART™-Collection or the sprays, enjoy the power of easy-to-use colors.

What are Power Flowers™?

Power Flowers™ are a revolutionary method to color any possible fat-based recipe, such as chocolate, cocoa butter, ice cream, mousses, marzipan, glazes, etc. Liquid food dyes belong to the past. From now on, you can create every color imaginable simply by combining different Power Flowers™. With the Color Master or the mobile App as your guide, you can create every color of the rainbow for any fat-based product of your choice.

Power Flowers™ exist in an AZO, NON AZO and From Natural Origin range. This way you can create the full color spectrum without compromising on specific rules imposed by legislation.

The Power Flowers™ assortment comes in the 3 primary colors (red, blue, yellow), plus white. For those who have luxury and glamour on their minds, we add Sparkling Power Flowers™, with gold, silver, copper and sparkling red!

Fast, simple and always precise

Not only chocolate

Power Flowers™ can color more than just chocolate. It's the ideal system for coloring any fat-based recipe, such as cocoa butter, ice cream, mousses, marzipan, glazes, sugar paste, sugar fondant, buttercream, dough and more.

'Power' fully concentrated

Because of their concentrated power, just a few Power Flowers™ are all you need to color 400 g of fat-based mass.

Unlimited color palette

With Power Flowers™ in the 4 primary colors (red, blue, yellow and white) and the Sparkling Power Flowers™ (gold, silver, copper and sparkling red), you can create every color imaginable. The Color Masters and the mobile App give the right formula for creating every color possible.

Multiple choices

AZO, NON AZO or From Natural Origin, Power Flowers™ come in any option to meet the desires of your customers. Prefer something festive? Sparkling Power Flowers™ add bling to your creations.

Saving time

Power Flowers™ melt right away in the microwave or in liquid chocolate or cocoa butter. In other words, you can immediately start coloring – and in just a matter of seconds, your chocolate or cocoa butter has the tone or color you want.

Consistent results

Power Flowers™ are easy to measure by breaking them in separate pieces. With the Color Masters and the Mobile App, you have a formula for every color. If you follow the Color Master precisely, identical amounts will guarantee the same result each and every time. With no wastage.

Personal touch

Would you like to develop your own color? By breaking the Power Flowers™ into different petals, you can work very precisely and color your creations with every possible combination of colors.

Color your creations

Thanks to Power Flowers™, you can now easily add any color to your creations, ranging from deep red to light green and from blue to purple. Simply combine the 3 primary colors and white together and follow the formulas suggested by the Color Master and the mobile App.

How to create a color?

Step 1

Choose your preferred color on the Color Master chart, in the mobile App or create one yourself and put the Power Flowers™ petals, as indicated in the formula, into a bowl.

Step 2

Measure a multiple of 400 g white (or milk) chocolate, cocoa butter, sugar paste, glaze... and heat.

Step 3

Pour 1/4 of the melted mass over the Power Flowers™.

Step 4

Wait 1 to 2 minutes until the Power Flowers™ have (almost) melted.

Step 5

Mix until the Power Flowers™ are completely dissolved.
Add the remaining 3/4 of the mass and mix.

Step 6

Temper your colored product if needed.

1 The actual colors may vary from those on the Color Master chart, depending on the background type, thickness, condition (crystallized or non crystallized) and quality of crystallization of white or milk chocolate and cocoa butter, as well as temperature, light source, etc. For spraying, the color indicated on the Color Master chart can vary if you replace part of the white or milk chocolate with cocoa butter (< 50% cocoa butter). 2 white chocolate e.g. W2NW – Callebaut or Zéphyr – Cacao Barry. 3 Milk chocolate e.g. 665NV – Callebaut or lightest version available. 4 The ideal temperature to color chocolate with Power Flowers™ is between 40 - 45°C

Coloring food

E free

Food colors, considered as additives, can be any dye, pigment or other substance that impart the color of food, but that can't be consumed as such. All additives that are safe for use in food have received an E-number from the European Safety Authority (EFSA). For example: Carmine is E120 and Allura Red is E121.

The use of food colors is subject to EU rules (Regulation 1333/2008/EC) to ensure a high level of human health and consumer protection. US- and Japan-specific regulations applied to food colors may differ from EU regulations. Please contact our customer service for more information.

Definition: Synthetic food colors are chemically synthesized from amines.

Characteristics: Synthetic food colors have superior coloring properties and are less sensitive to light.

Examples: Tartrazine (E102), allura red (E129), etc.

Definition: AZO colors are synthetic food colors that contain an N=N group (double nitrogen bridge). In organic chemistry, this N=N group is called an AZO group. AZO groups do not occur naturally; they are always synthetic.

Characteristics: AZO colors have a good technical performance in terms of migration, thermostability & sensitivity to light. They are brighter and less expensive than NON AZO colors.

AZD colors:

Tartrazine	E102 (sunset yellow)	Allura Red AC	E129 (allura red)
Sunset Yellow	E110 (orange)	Brilliant Black E151
Carmoisine	E122	Brown FK	E154

Ponceau 4R	E124	Litholubrine	E180

NON AZO

From Natural Origin

E

E free

Definition: From Natural Origin food colors are made from an extraction of a vegetable, animal or mineral source.

Characteristics: From Natural Origin food colors have a more natural origin than synthetic colors. They are more sensitive to light and heat, and are more expensive than synthetic colors.

Examples: Curcumin (E100), carmine (E120), iron oxides (E172), etc.

Definition: From Natural Origin coloring foods are foods or food ingredients which retain their essential characteristics. They can be used in their raw state or in a processed form by concentrating, cooking, drying or milling. Their color pigments are not selectively extracted from the original food.

Characteristics: From Natural Origin coloring foods contain no E-numbers. They are always NON AZO colors and can be consumed as such. From Natural Origin coloring foods are more sensitive to light and heat and are significantly more expensive than synthetic colors. They have a limited technical performance.

Examples: COCOART®<sup>TM</sup>, Spirulina based prints

Definition: Coloring foods are ingredients that can give color to food and that can be consumed as such. The essential characteristics of their source are maintained and there is no selective extraction. All coloring foods are E-number free.

Ingredients seen as coloring food: tomato concentrate, coffee, cocoa, spinach, spirulina, safflower, etc.

A study published by the University of Southampton, shows that the following 6 synthetic colors (5 AZO and 1 NON AZO) increase hyperactive behavior in children.

Sunset Yellow	E110 (orange)	Allura Red AC	E129 (allura red)	Carmine	E120
Carmoisine	E122	Brown FK	E154	Curcumin	E100
Ponceau 4R	E124	Brown HT	E155	Iron oxide	E172

When using Southampton colors, European legislation requires you to mention the following on the label of your final product: "May have an adverse effect on activity and attention in children".

If a color in the IBC color chart contains a Southampton color, it is indicated with this icon:

The legal information provided is merely indicative and cannot be considered legally binding to IBC Belgium.

Color Guide

THE ALL-ROUND TOOL

The Color Guide is our most all-round tool. It's a simple but accurate overview of all of the color categories you can use in your creations, both to print and mix. The entire color range and their various interactions are captured in this schematic tool. From AZO to E-free, the Color Guide provides information and recommends you what type of color you should use for specific cases.

Food Paint App

THE PRINTING TOOL

If you are into printing color, the Food Paint App is your clever assistant. It holds IBC's entire spectrum of printing colors, from which you can choose à la carte.

Picking and printing colors in itself is easy; applying the rules that go with them is tougher. Color restrictions are both country-specific and market-specific, which makes the legislation quite complex. With the Food Paint App, we create clarity and convert the regulations into clear do's and don'ts. How does it work? In The Color Cuisine™, every color you can print with has its own specific description. It says exactly what you can and cannot do internationally when you print a certain color. There's more, too: it even checks and double-checks the permitted color quota of your recipe. It's a simple and safe backup that deals with all your doubts about rules or restrictions.

- THE MYSTERIOUS TONES -

Romance is in the air, bringing this mysterious trend with it. Darker colors and heavy, elegant emphasis help you to bring creations to life in a poetic and unknown world. And the unknown always works incredibly well. Add a powerful taste sensation and your creation will take flight directly to an exciting destination. If only for just one bite.

This theme exudes strength and power.

And to achieve it, we revert to prints in strong, voluminous shades such as purple, black, brown and ochre. Dark, yet romantic. Striking, but still shrouded in mystique.

Power à la Mondrian

Show Time is a feast for the eyes! Jolly blues, reds and yellows form the heart of this very eye-catching palette of print colors. This theme also pays homage to the art movement of greats such as Piet Mondrian.

You can add more power with its primary colors, featuring bright fuchsia and orange – or maybe you should calm things down with some purple, or even black. Whatever the mix, all of these dazzling colors have one goal in mind: to spread instant happiness.
